

THEY CAME IN BUGGIES AND WAGONS to church and community events in the early days of the Provo Tabernacle, built in the 1880s and 1890s by the people of Utah Stake, which at that time comprised all of Utah Valley. Note the high tower in center of the structure. This was removed in 1917 because it was considered too heavy and therefore a hazard. Construction was begun in 1883 and the edifice was dedicated in 1898.

BUSINESS NEWS

Oil Company Elevates Ex-Provoan

WALLA WALLA, WASH.—Newell C. Acord has been promoted to sales representative-consumer in the Walla Walla, Washinton area, for American Oil Company.

Mr. Acord

Mr. Acord is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clair R. Acord, 2243 N. 300 E., Provo, Utah

Mr. Acord joined American in its marketing sales training program in January. He was born at Moroni, Utah, attended Brigham Young High School, and received his degree in marketing from Utah State University in 1964.

He is married to the former Karen Rae Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Harris of Pocatello, Ida. The Acords make home at 420 Catherine, Walla Walla.

Lewis Takes New Post With State

John E. Lewis of Orem, former statistician and employee of the Provo employment office, has recently been promoted to assistant personnel manager of the State Employment Office in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Lewis is married to the former Carolyn Coles, and has three children. They have decided that for the time being they will not leave their Orem residence.

Stapleton Named Turn Foreman

G. Lance Stapleton, Orem, has been named turn foreman of plate shipping in the rolling mills division at U. S. Steel's Geneva Works by L. E. Ringger, division superintendent.

COMBINATION CHART indicates daily closing stock indexes over Indicator is based on net percentage change of all issues traded